

A Ravers intro to the Galaxy

You have blasted off and have found yourself here. But where is here and where exactly have you found yourself? The floor trembles as your heart torrent's a vibration through your veins. wholesale jerseys That's bass. And it's hitting you hard. Bass. A strain of music that surges through your body from your toes to your skull, quickly taking control as you lose yourself in the wholesale nfl jerseys most reassuring way. Hundreds, thousands of strangers surround you and you have found home. What is it that connects us all to the next, spinning this colorful web that we call a family? EDM - Electronic Dance Music and it captivates all who plug in.

We are ravers, bass heads, kandi kids, with the transcendental ability to enliven. We are all unique, variegated, diverse - yet in these moments we become one, leaving any and all difference behind. EDM unifies us as we create a culture all on our own. You are safe here. The music is your pilot and will take you higher than you have ever been, so unbuckle and try not to lose your beyond face on the floor. We will all dance the night away as the DJ awakens each of our souls, inspiring cheap nba jerseys us to reach for the sky while the lights dazzle us.

I have never been quite sure if any of us really assimilate to its full Street electric potential what is happening in these moments, but I do know each one of us dances away positively changed for the better, always remembering, wanting for more. EDM is much like a drug the most potent, convincing, full-bodied drug to ever be consumed. Whether it be the filthy drops or the wonky basslines, the laser-like synths or the primal influenced rhythmic drums, it's gratifying.

The term "EDM" may have only originated as of recent years here in the states to blanket a group of electronic subgenres together, but electronic music has been here since the turn of the 20th century. Don't believe me? Look it up. Wikipedia is the Hollis bee's knees for history lessons. One thing is for certain, it is not going anywhere. Electronic dance music will continue to evolve as long as there is a lifeform to express it. I don't know about you, but I am completely alright with that. In fact, I encourage the growth of electronic music for years, decades, centuries, dimensions to come. Learn cheap nba jerseys it. Live it. Love it. The universe threw you a solid in those modulated Golf basslines, indulge in them.

If it's your first time around, next time be sure to bring your friends. I have a feeling their souls desperately need awakening, Slap! especially if they are unaware. We owe it to ourselves, to each other, to our human race, to open our minds and allow ourselves the universal right to free expression from the everyday dictatorship that electronic music does not obtrude. From veterans to noobs, we are all home here and there is only one rule, DANCE.
